

Advanced Concepts Branch (DEC)

Provides design team environment, configuration management, and concept investigations for the Center's Aero and Space projects. Support includes: design team leadership and coordinating in collaborative environments, tools management, conceptual analysis; systems and integration studies; technology assessments for advanced power and propulsion systems within the context of advanced design environments; configuration management of flight and ground-based systems for the Center's projects; systems engineering and tracking tools and templates for systems management plans, design reviews, and technical and system resources.

